School Week Activities Announced

The public is invited to attend traditional openhouse events at most of the 30 schools in Monterey Peninsula Unified School District during California's 52nd annual observance, April 26-30. A few of the schools will have special activities planned for during the school day. Parents will be invited by note, usually from the school's Parent-Teacher Association or from the principal.

Both the Monterey Children's Center and the Seaside Children's Center will have openhouse Monday, April 26, 7 to 9 p.m. These schools are part of a state-sponsored program to have year-round, all-day care of children ages 2-5 whose parent or parents are employed or attending school.

The Monterey Children's Center is at 542 Archer Street, Monterey, in a facility built and owned by the Monterey Peninsula Community Center, Inc., a non-profit community group.

The Seaside Children's Center is in converted classrooms at Noche Buena School, 1450 Elm Street, Seaside. Entrance to the school is at end of Flores Street, off Broadway, because Elm Street is closed on either side of the school grounds.

The entire Noche Buena School will have openhouse April 26, at 7 p.m. Noche Buena has pre-school education classes for small children whose families qualify, kindergarten classes and classes for children in primary grades 1-2-3, as well as the Seaside Children's Center.

Marina Vista School, 390 Carmel Avenue, Marina, also will have openhouse Monday, April 26, at 7:30 p.m. There will be a children's art festival and the Marina Vista Parent Teacher Association will give an honorary service award to a deserving person from the area. The unit contributes toward a state scholarship in name of the person honored. Marina Vista has kindergarten and grades 4-5-6. Children in primary grades 1-2-3 of the neighborhood attend nearby Crumpton School.

The new Cypress High School, formerly continuation high school, will have a dedication ceremony for renaming the school on April 27 from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the paved area at rear of the building currently being used, Contra Costa at Elm Street, Seaside (across the street from Covell School).

Dedication remarks will be made by G. Jervaise Davis III, president of the MPUSD Board of Education. Student Andre Torri will give remarks written by another student, Rob Sampson. Refreshments will be prepared and served by students. A rock group, "The Gathering," will provide music. The group is made up of student musicians from the district. Cypress High School has an enrollment of 130 young men and young women ages 16-18, most of whom attend school part-time and many of whom work part-time.

Eighteen of MPUSD's 22 elementary schools will have openhouse activities Tuesday, either from 7 or 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

By community these are: in Monterey, Bay View, Del Monte, Foothill, Hilltop, La Mesa, Larkin and Monte Vista Schools; in Seaside-Cabrillo, Covell, Del Rey Woods, Highland, Manzanita and Ord Terrace Schools; at Fort Ord-Marshall, Patton and Stilwell Schools and in Marina-Crumpton (a primary school, kindergarten and grades 1-2-3) and Olson Schools.

Exceptions are the Marina Vista and Noche Buena Schools with openhouse Monday, the Marina Del Mar School with openhouse Thursday and the

First Aid at Schools May Be Improved

Assemblyman Bob Wood has announced that he is introducing legislation to provide needed first aid care at our local schools.

The Wood bill would allow the State Board of Education to adopt regulations requiring that a specified number of employees be fully trained in first aid.

Today," Wood said, "a daily rash of minor accidents are facing inadequate care because of a shortage of school nurses. School nurses are divided up among many schools and often are not at a school when an accident occurs."

Since nurses also are frequently involved in home visits and off-campus, Wood's bill would support the idea of requiring several members of a school staff to have first aid training.

Since school nurses are also involved with hearing and vision testing and making contributions to the education of pupils, little time has been left to take care of the many accidents which take place throughout the school year.

Wood expressed his gratitude to Joseph McMahon, Superintendent of the Salinas City School District, for bringing the problem to his attention. With his cooperation and with the efforts of the Department of Education, the bill was prepared.

The Monterey County Assemblyman said, "I hope this bill will insure that first aid will be ready when needed and proper care will be given to our children who happen to be injured on the school grounds."

Hayes School, Fort Ord, which will invite parents to visit classrooms anytime during the week.

Four of MPUSD's five junior high schools will have openhouse programs from 7:30 to 9 or 9:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 28.

They are Colton Junior High in Monterey, Fremont Junior High in Seaside, Fitch Junior High on-post at Fort Ord and Los Arboles Junior High School in Marina.

The King Junior High School in Seaside will not have openhouse in the evening, but parents will be invited to visit classrooms any day of the week.

The Marina Del Mar School will have openhouse on April 29, from 7 to 9 p.m. This is an elementary school, kindergarten and grades 1 through 6, but also with pre-school education.

Seaside High School students will be visiting different points of the community all week, April 26-30, on schedules to be announced. The Seaside High School PTA will have a meeting Thursday, April 29, at 7:30 p.m.

Students Exhibited In Oakland

More than 850 bright and unusual artistic creations by 2000 California students are on exhibition in "Upstart," a display occupying the Oakland Museum's Great Hall through May 9.

The original works are by art students kindergarten to college.

The work of four Seaside students - Rhonda Vierra, Stewart Matz, Terry Sutton and Alma Roger, all of Martin Luther King Junior High School - is on display.

Media represent an entire spectrum from massive hanging paper mache sculptures to tiny, delicate silver jewelry. New materials like wood and metal, styrofoam and stichery are shown along with oils, acrylics, photography, ceramics, plastics, macrame and wood carvings.

The students' work represents concerned expression about a deteriorating environment, racism and politics to whimsical caricatures of their own rock, pop and funky life styles.

When the show leaves the Oakland Museum, 60 pieces will be selected for display in the State of California's Department of Education building Sacramento.

Another three, one each from elementary, junior high and high school, will be sent to Washington D. C. for opening of the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts.

"Upstart" is being held concurrently with the annual convention of the California Art Education Association, April 30 - May 2 in Oakland's Edgewater Hyatt House. Exhibit chairman for "Upstart" is Jim Snowden, Art Consultant for Concord's Mt. Diablo Unified School District. The Oakland Museum's Great Hall display is coordinated by Ben Hazard, Curator of Special Exhibits and Education.

Located at 10th and Oak Streets, The Oakland Museum is open Tuesday through Sunday, 10 to 5, and remains open Friday nights until 10. It is closed Monday.

Will Probe Medical Care

Senator Alan Cranston, who was recently named chairman of the new Veterans Affairs Health and Hospitals Subcommittee, has announced that he will hold hearings next month to "find out what happened to the $105 million Congress added to Veterans Administration appropriations last year to improve the quality of medical care for hospitalized veterans."

"We have received reports that conditions are no better than they were a year ago and that virtually all the money has gone for pay raises and other benefits for present personnel instead of for increasing hospital staffs as Congress had intended," Cranston declared.

He said his subcommittee would also look into the "adequacy" of the Administration's proposed veterans medical budget for fiscal 1972.

The new budget request calls for $124,750,000 more than last year's appropriations, but Cranston asserted that "there are indications that a large portion of this increase will be eaten up by inflation and fixed charges and that very little will be left over for actually improving medical care for sick and disabled veterans."

Education About VD Is Needed

"Syphilis and gonorrhea are not dirty words, they are devastating infections which, together, have become California's number one contagious disease now rampaging throughout the state and which will afflict one out of every 10 high school students this year."

That was the warning issued recently by James Boynton, president of the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association.

The seriousness of the VD epidemic is reflected by the State Public Health Department's estimate that four people every minute will contract VD in California and that one of every ten high school students will be afflicted this year.

"Over 115,000 VD cases were reported in California in 1970 and for every reported case there are four unreported cases which would bring the total to a staggering 500,000 plus victims in 1970; and predictions are it will be even higher this year," Boynton said.

"A 132 percent increase in VD in California and a 78 percent increase, nationally, over the past six years indicates how widespread venereal disease has become," Boynton reported, adding:

"There was a time when the prostitute was the key figure in the spread of VD, but today most cases of VD are found in middle class teenagers and young adults under 30."

To help stem the VD epidemic, Governor Reagan recently appointed a 28 man VD task force composed to study means of education, prevention and treatment and to make recommendations to the State Legislature.

New laws also have been passed which will permit persons under 21 to obtain treatment without parental consent or knowledge and which also permits minors to now purchase prophylactics.

"One of the first steps in combatting VD is to change our attitudes toward it," Boynton declared. "Too many people, particularly parents over 30, think of venereal disease as something not to be talked about, something sinful and shameful and attach the old cliché 'social disease' to it rather than accepting it for what it is - a serious medical disease that can be cured, but untreated can cause permanent damage to the body, the mind and can cause blindness and even death."

The pharmacy leader noted several reasons for the increase in venereal disease: ignorance about the causes of VD and the symptoms; shame and embarrassment over admitting and reporting the disease; avoidance of prompt and proper treatment; a casual attitude about the dangers of syphilis and gonorrhea and the belief that penicillin has eradicated it and the widespread use of the birth control pill which has led to a disregard for using VD preventive measures.

McGrath Aims Criticism At Chamber of Commerce

At the last Seaside City Council meeting, councilman Gerald McGrath urged the council to end the $300 monthly subsidy to the Chamber of Commerce unless that organization makes a concerted effort to change its direction.

McGrath emphasized that he was not calling for an immediate end to the subsidy, but said the council should consider the action if the chamber does not "take a hard, cold look at where it's going."

He pointed out that he thought the chamber should recruit more members and try to become totally self-supporting. He claimed that it represents only a relatively small percentage of businesses in the community.

Mayor Lou Haddad stood up in support of the chamber, saying, "It does a good job for the community. It's important to have a strong and viable chamber of commerce."

In other action, the council approved an amended application for urban redevelopment funds. The changes reflect a sharp cutback in funds at the federal level.

Requests for Seaside's 1971-72 redevelopment program had to be trimmed from $1,484,000 to 947,800, according to Russell Hoss, executive director of the city's redevelopment agency. He said the cut resulted from President Nixon's refusal to release a large block of urban renewal funds.

As a result of the cutback, the acquisition of three blocks in the Laguna Grande project will have to be postponed. Also, only half the culvert work between Roberts Lake and the freeway will be finished.

However, Hoss said, the cutbacks will have no effect on plans to develop three neighborhood parks in the Hannan Project.

Also, during the meeting, as Mayor Haddad read a mayoral proclamation of the Monterey Elk Lodge's Annual Youth Day observance, councilman Pearl M. Carey, one of two black members of the council, insisted that the record show her opposition to the action.

She pointed out that the nationwide policy that excludes blacks from membership in the Elks is discriminatory and that the council should not approve of any organization that discriminated.

However, the mayor replied, "I'd accept any offer of any group for the furthering of America. They do a service, though, I don't agree with their philosophy."

The other black council member, Stephen Ross, said he approved of the proposed observance, but he wanted Mrs. Carey's remarks forwarded to the Elks.

Search For

Maid Is

Under Way

Who is the most attractive young lady in Monterey County? This is the question being asked by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors. The answer will be determined by a panel of judges Thursday, May 13, at the Salinas Valley Fair in King City. That is the night of the Maid of Monterey County Pageant and the search is on right now for that one girl who will be crowned Maid of Monterey County.

Official rules and entry blanks may be obtained at the Salinas Valley Fair office, 625 Division Street in King City or the Salinas Chamber of Commerce office, 119 East Alisal Street in Salinas - Phone Salinas 424-7611.

day tour, by arranging special visits to the White House, Committees of Congress, Federal Agencies, the Naval Academy and colonial Williamsburg.

Concluding, Talcott said, "I hope that parents and friends will help some interested youngsters to observe their Capital, Federal Government, and their heritage firsthand."

Student Tour To Washington Announced

Congressman Burt L. Talcott has announced that the Second Annual Historical and Governmental tour of our Nation's Capital for high school juniors and seniors will be conducted during the period June 15-22.

Any high school junior or senior in Monterey, Kings, Santa Cruz or San Luis Obispo Counties who desires information about participation in this tour should contact Mrs. Hazel Towne, Chairman of the Tour Committee, 1267 San Fernando Drive, Salinas California 93901, telephone 408-424-9462.

The cost per student is $436.50, which includes travel to Washington and return by scheduled Airlines; first-class hotel accommodations and three meals daily; all transportation and sightseeing tours in Washington and surrounding areas.

Interested students wishing to participate in this tour should submit their application to Mrs. Towne along with a deposit of $50 by May 1.

Applications will be considered on a first-come, first-served basis, because the tour can accommodate only 30 students plus 3 adult chaperons.

Local service clubs and civic organizations may want to participate by defraying all or part of the cost of the tour for some deserving student.

In making the announcement Congressman Talcott said, "Ever since first experiencing the thrill of seeing our Nation's Capital - its historical buildings and monuments, and its institutions, I have wished that outstanding young people from our district could share the excitement of a visit to

Washington, D. C."

"Last year's student tour was so successful that I am convinced that every effort should be made to conduct such tours of our Capital on an annual basis."

Publisher's Report Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

This weekend I had the honor and privilege to attend two very gala, festive affairs. The first, held last Saturday at Hermann Hall, Naval Post Graduate School, was the 29th Anniversary of the Battle of Bataan, honoring the forgotten heroes of Bataan and Corregidor. The second affair was the testimonial dinner at the Outrigger on Cannery Row honoring Jane Van Hook, attorney for the Legal Aid Society of Monterey County. Both dinners were well attended and most interesting. I would like to go into the details of the Filipino celebration since I had the honor to participate in it. (Betty Mann will report on the Jane Van Hook testimonial in her column next week.)

The Philippine Scouts Association of America, whose president is Leonardo Cancio of Marina, spent months in preparation of this elaborate ceremonial affair. Among the honored guests were Ambassador Carlos A. Faustino, Consul-General of the Philippines in San Francisco, Brigadier General Elmer R. Ochs, Commanding General of U.S. Army, CDCEC, Fort ORD, and Margaret Koesen of San Francisco, who was presented a plaque by Assemblyman Bob Wood for her work on behalf of the Filipino people.

There was also quite an array of important people showing the esteem that the diplomatic corps has for these Filipino Heroes, in attendance. From San Francisco came Jacques Marquin, Consul, Consulate General De France; Hung Tu, Consul, Chinese Consulate General; R. W. Davies, Consul, Con-

with BETTY MANN

Hi There, Fellow Peninsulans:

Now that the school board election is over and we have two new board members, lets hope they can help improve our school system.

It would be very wise if all the Seaside parents, who are interested in their children's education, would take a few seconds out of a day's work and visit the school or schools that their children attend. There are certain things going on in our school system that interested parents should know about.

For instance, if your child attends an elementary school, it would be nice to know that next year, when the school doors open and you are working, that the principal and teachers would be gracious enough not to send a child home without your knowing about it or without your being home. It would also be nice to know that your child would not be suspended from school for chewing gum or other minor offenses and sent to the Seaside police station. It would also be nice to know that it is not expected of you as a parent to accompany your child to the police station and beat that child in front of a police officer in order for the child to stay in school or to be readmitted to school.

On the other hand, if you have a child attending King Junior High, it is interesting to know that the children would be getting more out of school than learning how to cook. I have learned that the school board has seen fit to start a cooking and cafeteria management class at King Junior High and perhaps this is okay. But if you are a black person, cooking comes naturally. We've been cooking since we left the slave ships! Our children need more emphasis on basic education and academic skills. It is time that our school board stop tracking our minority students. If you are from another minority group other than black, I am sure that cooking is a part of your daily living and since most children who attend King are either blacks or from other minority groups, I am sure that the board could find another subject to offer which would be more beneficial and up to date than cooking.

It would also be nice to know that when King Junior High reopens its doors in September, our children will be more interested in staying in school rather than picketing their classes because of poor teachers and misinterpretation between and students.

Now, on the other hand, if you are fortunate, or should I say unfortunate, to have a child who attends Seaside High, then don't expect a first class education at all. This group of students is at a total loss. Sure they get things such as the three "R's", but what about things like switchboard operation, which the kids at Monterey High get. But if you are black and you don't attend Monterey High, then you don't get a chance take broadening courses such as oceanography because, undoubtedly, the counselors feel that all blacks and minorities and disadvantaged are dumb! While checking around, I find that my son was the only black student enrolled in the oceanography class at Monterey High. At the first of the year, the teacher gave him a very bad time. Instead of being motivated by the teacher he wanted to drop the class. It is very interesting to know that when a certain counselor at Monterey High was contacted by a college in Oregon concerning four-year scholarships for black students, he told them only two would qualify. This is strange since the requirements were only a "C" average and to be only a black student. If this be the case and our black students keep getting cheated out of full four-year scholarships, we parents had better see the school board about getting a new set of teachers! I mean all one hundred and some! (smile)

Another interesting item that needs to be checked is the problem of the black kids not being able to see their counselors when they are needed. At least they should be available some of the time (smile). It is nice to know that with all the new programs starting in the fall, that Monterey High will have a special program for "problem children". Three guesses what color the problem children will be! I suppose they are a problem because the counselors sure have a hard time placing the children in classes that will get them prepared for college, such as, college prep English, foreign languages and math.

The most interesting thing, I think, about Monterey High is the fact that they cannot find blacks to give scholarships to with a "C" average. But I am sure I was told that the fellows had to have a "C" average to play football or run track, and that the Monterey football team sure keeps a superior winning record and the brothers seem to be able to keep a "C" average for football season at least????

Others interesting things: I understand that there is a teacher's aide teaching a class at one of the target area elementary schools here in Seaside - shame, shame!!! It make we wonder if it's not possible to have him moved to Monte Vista school in Monterey and let him teach a class there because the children are not supposed to be so disadvantaged and they could stand a little diversity (smile).

As a concerned parent and citizen, I scream the loudest. The "racism" is blatant in our Monterey School district. It is indicated by the following: out of 129 clerical workers in the school district, only four are black. Isn't this an implication that more clerical classes in the school system should be offered? The explanation that is given is that they fail to pass the exams. So why not focus on this fact and establish a class. In all of the Seaside schools, there are only four black office clerks and not even one black secretary. There is not one black psychologist in the school system; not one black female PE teacher in Seaside; only one black counselor in Seaside; over 100 cafeteria workers, but only eight are blacks; there are 35 bus drivers, but only two are black. there are no black instrumental music teachers.

The courses that are offered at Seaside High are courses that are vocational such as jewelry making, pottery, etc. Monterey High, which started the above courses, has a higher and suitable selection.

In the following weeks I will focus on the discrepancy being practiced by the MPUSD. The information offered above on statistics of employment is a matter of record and may be checked out at the Personnel Office at 700 Pacific Street, Monterey.

Until next week.
Betty.

sulate General of Canada; A. F. Johnston, Consul, Consulate General of New Zealand; Richard Thomas, Consul, Consulate General of Great Britain; our own Donald Butts, of Butts Pontiac-Cadillac, represented R. L. Dean, the Consul-General of Australia and read a telegram from him honoring the Bataan Heroes.

Monterey County officials who participated in the ceremonies included Supervisor Loren Smith and Assemblyman Bob Wood. Mrs. Alan Pattee, wife of the late assemblyman, presented a trophy to the queen—Her Majesty Queen Debbie.

To go into the details of the elaborate ceremony would take three more columns, so suffice it to say that the program was in five parts starting with the Posting of the Colors by the Fort Ord Army Color Guard and the Marine Corps Color Guard.

This was followed by a candle ceremony in honor of the War Dead. Part 3 was the coronation ceremony which was under the direction of Mrs. Caridad Layus. She was assisted by Mrs. Amada Cosio. The coronation was most beautiful and impressive. Crowned as Queen Debbie the First for 1971-72 was Debbie Panganihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo Panganihan of Seaside. Crowned Miss Bataan of 1971-72 was Gail Caguimbal, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gervacio Caguimbal of Salinas. Miss Corregidor was Virginia Robles, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Igmedio A. Robles of Manila. Miss Robles stays with her grandmother, Mrs. Rose Clemente in Carmel.

Honor Guards for the coronation ceremonies were provided by members of the Caballeros-de-Dimas-Alang Inc.

Part 4 of the program was a series of delightful Filipino Folk Dances, performed by the Filipinas Folk Dance Group, under the direction of Mrs. Lilia Rianzares. The last part of the program was dancing for everyone with music provided by Mel's Islanders of San Francisco. Sancho O. Lahera of Seaside did a masterful job as Master Of Ceremonies and with the able, overall guidance of President Leonardo Cancio, the program went smoothly.

I particularly wanted to report this impressive ceremony because I have a great love for the Filipino people and have been involved in some of their problems since 1939, when the Filipinos in this country were carrying on the fight for Philippine Independence. Most of the younger generation do not know of the hardships and tribulations that the early Philippine settlers had, particularly in the state of California. Even though the Philippine Islands were an American possession, the Filipinos were not allowed citizenship and were treated as Asiatic aliens.

Under the Asiatic Exclusion Act, they were not allowed to bring their wives or women into this country except under special circumstances. The Filipinos were first brought over to work as laborers on the railroad and on farms. It wasn't until long after these brave heroes, which we honored the other night, had fought side by side with our own boys in the Philippines and in the Pacific during World War II that there was any move made by our government to grant anything like equal status to our Filipino brothers. The irony of all this is that while our own Filipino brothers were being excluded from immigration to this country as Asiatic aliens, there was free immigration from all of the so-called white European countries.

I mention all of this because of the injustices that we as a nation have heaped on not only the Filipino people, but also on all of the other Asiatic immigrants who have landed on our shores. Many of the Chinese and Hindu immigrants didn't even "land" on our shores. They were "shanghaied" and brought in to serve as cheap laborers on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Once they were here, they suffered the worst deprivations that you could ever imagine, not the least being that they could not bring their wives and children here from their homeland. Much of this has now been corrected and it looks as though the present administration is making moves towards China, which will eventually allow some of our Chinese brothers to visit their families on mainland China.

Your Social Security

Q. This is a question as to whether or not my wife and I would be able to receive Social Security checks when we attend college full time. Both of us come from families out of state where our fathers had died when we were young and our mothers were receiving Social Security checks for us. I know that we'd be able to collect Social Security from 18-22 years old if we attended college full time, but would we be able to collect Social Security now that we are married and have child, if we attend college full time? Would the fact that I will collect from the government under the GI bill interfere with Social Security? I am 19 and my wife is 18.

A. Since 1965 thousands of students ages 18 to 22 have been getting Social Security benefits each month. These students are being paid because they have a parent who is retired, disabled or deceased. Before 1965 Social Security checks were stopped when a child reached 18, unless he was severely disabled. The change in this part of the Social Security Act has allowed many students to continue with education. The Social Security Act has set the following standards in determining the eligibility of a student to get benefits: the student must attend school on a full-time basis; he must not be paid by any employer for attending school; he must be unmarried. Had you been eligible for student benefits, the fact that you would have received assistance under the GI bill would in no way affect your rights to benefits on your fathers record.

Who Cares Letter To The Editor

By Mel Vercoe

Prostitution legal in California? Yes, if a bill being introduced in the Assembly by Leroy Greene of Sacramento is adopted. There are some good arguments in favor of his bill. Present laws are ineffective, promote such activities as police pay-offs, and create many problems with hangers-on such as pimps, etc.

Legalizing prostitution would wipe out the corruption, would bring the prostitutes out of the dark alleys and put them in places where some measure of control could be exercised over the present alarming spread of venereal diseases, and if the lives of the prostitutes are to be considered at all, this legalization would take them out of the criminal classification and give them legal status in the community and maybe even unemployment and social security rights.

Also, two other major points are important. A customer is less likely to infect his own family with a disease if he patronizes a state-supervised legal house than if he picks up an itinerant street walker in a bar or an alley, and a young girl on her way home from school is just a little bit safer from a rapist's attack in a community where sex can be purchased legally and easily than in a community where sex outside the home is so taboo that it invites criminal acts.

Prostitution has been generally unlawful in California since 1855, but it was not until the Red Light Abatement Act of 1913 that the sale of this immoral national product had to go underground. Assemblyman Greene polled his constituents on the issue and found that two out of three favored Editor: The "psychic craze" which seems to be infecting so many people needs some leveling influence, and I have found none better than that offered by the Rosicrucians. This international philosophical fraternity provides rational answers to psychic phenomena and brings them into proper perspective as a natural consequence of special mental faculties which are latent in all persons.

They dispel the notion that there are supernatural entities acting upon man, or that divine powers are granted to so-called holy men. Such popularized subjects as reincarnation, astrology, spirit communications, psychic readings and witchcraft have caused a flurry by their tendency toward sensationalism, but they are all simply a part of the extension of man's consciousness into nonobjective areas of his environment.

The attempt by many individuals to make something mysterious out of all this is a disservice to the entire subject area. Meanwhile the volume of misinformation put out on these topics leads to weird practices and wasted effort on the part of many who are led up a blind path.

Sincerely Yours,

Roy R. Wilson

the change.

The issue should be interesting. The puritans and the righteousness-blinded flag wavers of course will oppose the bill, as will the pimps, the madames and others who would stand to lose.

In favor of the change will be public health officials, fired prosecuting attorneys and undercover agents, as well as many plain citizens who are not only concerned for the safety of their daughters but who would rather see law enforcement funds spent on bettering our society instead of degrading it.

Some things can be legislated, and some can not. Liquor consumption can not be regulated to the point of outlawing it. We can't keep our children from smoking cigarettes by having rules against selling cigarettes to them. Abortion laws have no effect ing on the wall, while outlawing it everywhere else. We might as well have a law prohibiting housewives from holding frying pans in their left hands before ten o'clock in the morning.

Booklet Is on Sale

Publication of a new book about Point Lobos State Reserve has been announced by William Penn Mott, Jr., Director of the State Department of Parks and Recreation.

The 80 page, 8-1/2x 11-inch book contains more than 70 photos including some by Ansel Adams, Edward Weston and Philip Hyde. Each of the eleven chapters is written by experts in natural science, history, landscape architecture and park administration.

"This book is designed to help visitors see new aspects of the Reserve's great beauty," Mott said, "and beyond that to help them understand the on-going natural processes behind that beauty."

"Experts believe, for instance, that the beautiful cypress groves at Point Lobos are part of a vanishing forest community that was once wide-spread in North America," Mott added, "Those who are aware of this evolutionary process are able to see more than pretty green trees. They are witness to the dynamic spectacle of an embattled cypress species clinging to life at the edge of the continent. And this is only one of the many stories that lie behind scenery at Point Lobos."

Publication of the book was made possible by a grant from the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C. through the Save-the-Redwoods League. It is one of a series of similarly self-supporting publications being produced by the Park Department for units of the State Park System where in-depth interpretation is of particular importance.

The book will be sold for $1.90 (plus 10 cents California sales tax) at Point Lobos State Reserve and other units of the State Park System.

Mail orders may be made by sending a check or money order for $2 to the Department of Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento, California 95811.

Film Explores South Seas

"South Sea Holiday", a new feature length color travel adventure film, will be narrated in person by its producer Nicol Smith at 8:15 p.m. tonight (Thursday) and tomorrow (Friday) at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

The Explorama presentation captures the romance and beauty of the South Seas and was shot on location in Fiji, Western Samoa and Tonga.

Highlights include unusual Marau war dances, spectacular fish drive, fire walking, deep sea fishing and underwater photography, the legendary Aggie Grey and unusual flying foxes that are 30 inches long.

The program presents a kaleidoscope of scenic wonders and people who have learned the art of enjoying life.

Reserved seat tickets are available in advance at Abinante Music Store, 425 Alvarado, Monterey, Julia Marlowe Shop in Carmel and all Macy's stores.

Y-Day Camp Open to Girls

The Monterey Peninsula YWCA which has operated a day camp for boys each summer since 1966, will add a session this summer for girls only, according to YMCA President George Brehmer.

Y-Day Camp is conducted on private property in Carmel Valley. Campers are picked up each day by leased buses and taken to the Y-Day Camp site for a full day of activities, including swim instruction (in the Y's own pool, donated last year by the Bing Crosby Youth Fund), crafts, games, archery, hiking, and story telling. At least once each session, Y-Day campers and leaders go on a special trip to some place of interest.

Each two-week session is highlighted by a parents' campfire program and an overnight campout.

Leadership for Y-Day Camp is provided by high school and college students selected and trained by the YMCA.

The Camp is directed by Robert Babcock, who teaches at Seaside High School during the rest of the year.

In addition to the girls session of Y-Day Camp, June 28 to July 9, there will be three 2-week sessions for boys, July 12-22, August 2-12 and August 16-26.

Y-Camp registration for the general public will open on April 24.

For further information, please call the Y-office at 373-4166.

THE PHONE BOOTH

If you're someone who likes to browse through books, there's one book I recommend that's really worthwhile. It's the Monterey Co. telephone directory, especially the front pages. They're full of information about Area Codes, emergency numbers and how to make different types of calls - plus many other useful facts. There's even an index to save you time in finding what you need. So browse through them and be sure you're taking advantage of all the service that goes with your telephone.

It's a good idea to make it easy for business associates and friends to call you by including your Area Code and telephone number on your stationery and business cards. With today's low-cost, fast long distance service, more and more people are answering their correspondence with a convenient two way phone call.

I hope you'll be listening in for radio broadcasts of the San Francisco Giants baseball games. Pacific Telephone is one of the sponsors this season, and sportscasters Lon Simmons and Bill Thompson will be giving you tips on how to get the most out of your telephone service.

Cross Only At Crosswalk

A short walk to the corner may save your life. Statistics show that the majority of pedestrian accidents occur when a person is crossing at a place other than at an intersection.

The California State Automobile Association says that, even without special pedestrian and traffic controls, corners are the safest places to cross because drivers often slow down in anticipation of stopping at intersections. Also, research has shown that people can perceive an expected object from twice as far away as they can an unexpected one. So why not cross where motorists are looking for you?

Particles Changed

Dr. A. F. Bush, a UCLA professor of engineering, says that new cars with exhaust controls send twice as many small particles into the air as old cars without anti-smog devices.

The difference, according to Bush, is the size of the particles. He says that the number of invisible sub-micron particles are increased, while the hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide are reduced.

As a result, the professor says, the anti-smog devices are not controlling smog, but only changing its nature.

The sub-micron particles are so small they may stay suspended in the atmosphere several months and don't come down until they are washed out or some together in heavier conglomerate particles. Still, Bush can see some improvement in the pollution fight being made.

"Now we've got to go after the pebbles—the sub-micron particles and the oxides in nitrogen," Bush said.

Circuit Director Welcomed

"Next week, April 27 through May 2, will mark a special period of activity for the Marina Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses," Carl Braddock, presiding minister of the congregation, said recently.

He continued, "Mr. R. I. Weaver, who has oversight of the 16 Congregations in Central California Circuit #11, will be visiting with us, sharing his knowledge of practical application of the Scriptures to Christian living. We, in turn, hope to share what we learn with our friends and neighbors in this community and we plan to make every effort to meet as many of them as possible during the week."

The congregation will hold several during the week of instruction and training. A high point will come Sunday when Weaver will deliver a discourse on the subject "Decisions You Will Face - How Will You Make Them?"

Braddock concluded, "The public is invited to any of our meetings. No collections are ever taken and anyone interested in the Bible will be welcome."

Church Services

Opportunities for progress will be emphasized this Sunday at Christian Science church services.

"And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever," one of the Scriptural verses in the Lesson-Sermon on "Probation After Death" states.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this citation will be read: "Progress takes off human shackles. The finite must yield to the infinite. Advancing to a higher plane of action, though rises from the material sense to the spiritual, from the scholastic to the inspirational, and from the mortal to the immortal."

All are welcome at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Monterey. The service begins at 10:30 a.m.
